FROM AN EXECUTIVE PERSPECTIVE . . . .

The main Executive issue is addressed in the enclosed yellow flyer (for local members only).

February was the first month we held our General Meeting at Petrelli's Bar and Grill. We had a few minor problems, but Vito P will make sure that these are taken care of for our March meeting on the 2nd. We had a great turn out and comments from the group were generally positive with the feeling that we'll be much more comfortable at Petrelli's than we were at the Round Table!

Come out and support your club. See you at Petrelli's on 2 March!

PALAU – A PREVIEW FOR 1994

In February of next year 20 Sea Divers and friends will be traveling to the South Pacific diving destinations of Truk and Palau. We've had a program on Truk and the Truk Aggressor already. So now it is time to look at what Palau has to offer.

We'll view two video tapes:

"Palau – The Enchanted Islands" and
"Lost Fleet of the Rock Islands"

Each is about 30 minutes in length and each contains a wealth of information which should entice many of you to sign up on the waitlist for the February 1994 trip.

Those of you who are signed up for the trip are encouraged to attend this meeting to see these Palau tapes. Please note the mention on page 4 regarding the announcement of a planning meeting for the Truk Palau trip (March 25 at the Serenas). Those of you who may be interested in being put on the waitlist are invited to attend that planning and informational session.

See you all on 2 March for the General Meeting at our NEW location – Petrelli's.

Dicie Sizemore
Program Chairman

LOBSTER AND ABALONE TOGETHER!

14 MARCH (Sunday)

SANTA BARBARA

WILD WAVE

MEMBERS $70

(ALL INCLUSIVE)

NON-MEMBERS $80

Boarding: 7:00 PM

Departure: 2:00 AM

The March dive is on the WILD WAVE to SANTA BARBARA Island and is again unusual in two ways: 1) It is the only dive charter this year where LOBSTER and ABALONE are BOTH in season; and 2) It is the only SUNDAY club charter in 1993. The WILD WAVE will depart from 22nd Street around 2:00 AM on the 14th for an early AM arrival at the Island. Won't hurt to bring along your chem-lights and dive light(s), just in case.

Aside from LOBSTER and ABALONE, SANTA BARBARA offers just about every element for diving. The multiplicity of reefs, walls, arches and canyons provide superior opportunities for PHOTOGRAPHY and VIDEO. Add to that the extensive variety of sea life and typically great visibility and you've got the best of diving. Some of the larger FISH inhabit the environs -- so you spear hungry types will not be disappointed.

The trip is suitable for all skill levels and should provide some great diving!!! At $70 all inclusive (air and food -- including our typical steak barbeque!) it's a REAL steal. A call to (310) 370-1657 will sign you up. MARK YOUR CALENDAR!!! Bunks will be preassigned on a FIRST PAY/SPACE AVAILABLE basis.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

Los Angeles divers can breathe a sigh of relief now regarding the four new ecological reserves to be established as a result of the Gill Net Ban Initiative of 1990. The DFG has reduced the list of candidate sites down to 6, with none in Ventura, Los Angeles or Orange counties. The nearest locations are in San Luis Obispo County and off Camp Pendleton. The selection of the actual 4 sites will be done by this fall after a series of public hearings.

By now everyone should be aware that the boat "user fee" tax was repealed last fall. Boats over 21 feet are still legally required to purchase stickers for 1993 if operated in any waters where the U.S. Coast Guard maintains a presence.

WORLD CLASS DIVING - RIGHT HERE

10 APRIL 1993 (Saturday)

FARNSWORTH BANKS/CATALINA

CHARISMA

MEMBERS $65

(ALL INCLUSIVE)

NON-MEMBERS $75

Boarding: 5:00 AM

Departure: 6:00 AM

The "new" CHARISMA will take us from 22nd Street to Farnsworth BANKS and other pinnacles and reefs on the back and front side of CATALINA. This dive proved very popular last year, so we are repeating in 1993 in lieu of our normal cycle of two years.

FARNSWORTH BANKS is on the backside of CATALINA about 1.3 miles off Ben Western Point. The Banks are about 1100 yards by 600 yards, with the shallowest pinnacles at 55 to 70 feet. The spectacular walls descend to over 100 feet. FARNSWORTH is famous for its now protected unique coral which is the deep purple color contrasting with other colonies of coral, such as at SANTA BARBARA, which tend to be pink, red or orange. Some of the colonies of coral are over 15 inches in diameter, and the whole visual effect adds immeasurably to the beauty of FARNSWORTH, both to the eye and the lens of your camera, still PHOTO and/or VIDEO. Large FISH, which are not protected, inhabit the area so you spear folks should collect a nice bounty.

This is a spectacular dive and under perfect conditions can be dived by intermediate and above. Under less than perfect conditions, this is an advanced dive. However, following the FARNSWORTH dive we will proceed to at least three other shallower pinnacles or reefs, suitable for all skill levels (especially you folks who have not been diving through the winter!), around the West End of CATALINA. Although not as abundant as on the other islands, SCALLOPS and ABALONE are available to the persistent gameperson.

As is now typical of all Sea Divers charters, the trip includes air, food, snacks, beverages, and possibly an award or two to keep things interesting on board! Call Kathi (McNally) at (310) 370-1657 for immediate signup. FARNSWORTH is the closest world class dive to 22nd Street. COME ALONG -- CHECK OUT OUR ALL INCLUSIVE PRICES AGAINST ANYONE!!!

JUST NINE YEARS AGO . . .

John Mowrey was the club President; Bill Garrett, Vice President; Bob McSeveney, Treasurer; and Debbie Prosser, Secretary. General Meetings were held at Beach Bum Burt's and the Executive Meeting was at the home of Jim Brown in Redondo Beach. The month's boat dive was to San Nicolas on the WILD WAVE at $48 (non-inclusive). There was a planned eat-in at the "Mueller Mansion," with with all kinds of "added highlights" - great looking list! Also planned was a dive in the shark tank at Marineland in Palos Verdes - cage included at $17!?! As usual, the President was pleading for people to pay their dues for 1984! The newsletter was gray - presumably as a result.

SUCH A NICE DAY IN FEBRUARY

The weather in 1993 has gone from spectacular to real, real wet and windy so we approached our 13 February charter on the WILD WAVE to San Nicolas with our fingers crossed -- we won -- it was just beautiful!!

All of our divers EVENTUALLY found the new location for the WILD WAVE at Cabrillo Marina (Landing). Steve K had the best story to tell which is printed on page 6. Joel I slipped out of the dock almost exactly on the 12:01 AM departure time, arriving and anchoring off San Nicolas at 5:45 AM. Night dive? . . . not to be, the water was "muddy," ugly, real real ugly. We rode out the next 45 minutes waiting for light to find cleaner water. Deeper was much better and our first spot was in 80 feet of "cool" 53 degree water, calm, no current, and surprisingly good visibility at around 50 feet.

Saw some, played with some, got none -- others had much the same experience, but three bugs were nabbed and introduced to boat cruising. We moved further west west along the north side of San Nicolas flirting heavily with the navy's restricted alpha zone. Damn the torpedoes!!

The second spot was much the same except water depth was shallower at 60 feet. One or two bugs were the order. The "fish gang" were at it again spearing all kinds of medium to large species -- way to go if the bugs aren't biting. Donna E (bug mistress) suggested a trip in shallow and Joel I anchored in about 35 feet of low (2-5 foot) visibility "stuff." Nice try, no cigar -- most abandoned the dive in less than 15 minutes. Two, including Donna E, found a bug apiece. We did good and found the boat!!

Back deeper! The fourth dive was in about 45 feet of 30-40 foot visibility water adjacent to a spectacular reef structure which supported some REALLY big fish. Also noted were a large 19th century style anchor -- sailing ship style -- and "miles" of 6" diameter stranded cable almost big enough to hold the world together!

A short move east put us over another superb reef -- again replete with a very large anchor probably from a large navy cruiser or battlewagon. Bugs continued in short supply. The day turned out to be extremely pleasant with warm sun, calm ocean and no wind. The diving was nice but obviously non-productive of lobster. The "fish guys" did very well and were cleaning for some time on the way back.

We left the island at about 12:50 PM taking about 5 minutes longer to reach Cabrillo than the trip out. We had our usual steak affair and most divers followed up with at least a short nap. Arrival at Berth 31 was like a homecoming with Mikey P greeting everyone and John P helping with dock lines! Nice day out!

We held back on the awards. Two boobies of note, however. Steve K's odyssey in the dark Friday evening and Kathy D's self-inflicted hang up in a tank bungy between dives. Two injuries of note: Roxie, Paul K's girlfriend, stepped into the open hatch in the galley gashing her lower leg -- Paul thought she was down there helping ??? -- and we sincerely hope everything healed OK. Kathi Mc who tried to tear her right off on the car window as we were preparing to leave the parking lot. See you in March at Santa Barbara Island, for more fun and frolicks.

SAN NICOLAS QUOTES . . .

" . . . she figures you're all nuts?"

"You don't have to complete the 'Hall of Foam' tonight."

"You don't have to drink it, you just have to buy it."

"He's all neat and tidy now."

"You mean sloshing scotch around my teeth is no substitute for flossing?"

"I'll bet a guy of your age has to beg all the time."

"I don't think Art can take it."

"Quit mixing beers -- this is not an experiment."

"It's not the amount of hair, it's whose hair."

"Not so deep -- I don't hear that too often."

"I'm sorry I missed that."

"Dacey really pissed her off."

"Are you going to wear the leather mini?"

*****

"That didn't suck, it really sucked."

"Just shows blind people can dive."

"Another great swim fest."

"Stay off the reef, it's REAL dirty where the waves break!!!!"

"We kept bumping masks and making kissing noises."

"You won't catch bugs on the boat."

*****

"What were you doing in there, shaving your legs?"

"Oh, good. Now I can take you down off that pedestal I have you on and get you back in the gutter with the rest of us."

"Maybe we're anchored over a volcano."

"Good job we didn't bring ice -- we'd have had no room."

"I quit."

"Auto's running the boat -- can't trust those Germans."

"How's this get so hard?"

"Three bugs. You guys are embarrassing me."

"Keep it quiet. The president's sleeping."

A NOT SO STEALTHY APPROACH

.... (by STEVE KAVANAUGH)

It was a dark and stormy night -- well, it wasn't really stormy, but it was dark, REAL dark. I had gotten off to a late start from home, what with the darkness and all, and made my way down to the Cabrillo Landing to catch a hop on the WILD WAVE. The map directions looked pretty easy so I didn't pay much mind to the time, after all I could find the WAVE at 22nd Street Landing with my eyes closed. How hard could it be to find her at Cabrillo? But then it was dark, REAL dark.

The clock was ticking past 11:15 when I pulled in to the Landing. Lots of nice boats I thought, REAL nice, but where was the WAVE? The map said she should be docked close to the bar, but where was her familiar silhouette? Of course, it was dark, REAL dark. I cornered a passing youth. "The wild what?" he responded. No help there. The bar still looked alive so I bent the ear of the barkeep. "Sure," he said. "She's right down there, the one with the lights on." Sure enough, there was a dimly lit boat where the guy (I think his name was Joe -- barkeeps are always named Joe) pointed. It didn't look like the WAVE from the front, but maybe they'd done some work, A LOTTA WORK, since I'd last been on her. But then it was dark, REAL dark.

I thanked Joe and made my way back to the car. It was a short walk to the boat Joe had pointed out so I grabbed a bundle and headed off. The tank felt good on my back, like an old friend. The large handle of the camera case made for easy carrying. I'd put off the belt and dive bag til the next load. No hurry, how much time could it take to unload and repark the car before midnight?

The clock was slipping past 11:30 by the time I hit the first gate. These are BIG gates, I thought, REAL big. I closed the gate after me and looked to where Joe had pointed. The boats to my left still didn't look like the WAVE, and where were all the bright lights? "Who knows," I thought, maybe they have some special rules at this marina. That gate to my left was open so I stepped through. Something still didn't look right, but maybe she was on the other side of this big one. I held on to the gate as I stepped through and pulled it after me. As the gate closed I heard a loud snap -- that's funny I thought, that other gate didn't latch. I pressed on the gate -- LOCKED. I tried again, no results. I couldn't believe it, I was locked in. But wait, that can't be true. I looked again at the gate -- in the darkness I saw only the outside knob. There's no inside knob I thought. I reached through the bars -- no good.

Now I was starting to sweat. The WAVE was obviously somewhere else, maybe close, but this gate was standing in my way. And the time was ticking away. I looked again at the gate -- if I climbed up it I could toss my tank and camera over and reach through and catch them. It worked -- now all I needed was to climb over and find the WAVE before midnight. I started climbing. I was gonna make it. But then a sound from the dark distracted me. "What are you doing?" it said. "What?" I said as I turned and slipped back down the gate. "What are you doing?" the voice said again. Now I saw him, a dark figure, REAL dark, on the dimly lit boat to my left. "I got locked in," I replied. "I'm trying to find the WILD WAVE and I got locked in behind this gate," I explained.

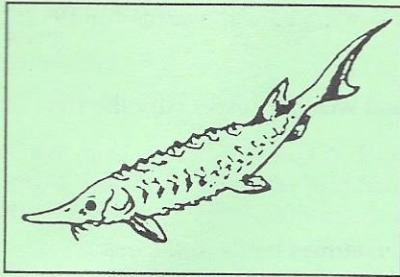

"Why don't you try the knob?" he replied somewhat sarcastically. I looked back at the gate there in the dark recesses of a tube extending from where the inside knob should have been was -- the inside knob. I reached for it and turned it and walked out into the dark, DARK night.

(Editor's note: If you thought this ended abruptly, it did! Steve ran out of paper!)

Seconds later, Mrs. Norton was covered with ink.

Dear Krabby

Dear Krabby,

When I've been out on dive boats I've noticed that the divers use several different methods for filleting fish. What do you think is the quickest, simplest method?

Floundering Filleter

Dear F<sup>2</sup>,

My favorite method simply involves walking up to one of the crew and asking in my best bimbo voice, "Would you...could you...PLEASE clean my fish for me??" Of course, this requires a small amount of groveling on my part. But hey, it's a small price to pay to get my fish cleaned fast and as a bonus I don't smell like warmed over fish guts when it's done. No muss, no fuss.

Dear Krabby,

My wife and I have a long running argument over the advantages and disadvantages of the different types of SCUBA tanks. We figured we'd let you cast the deciding vote, so what is your favorite type of tank?

Alum Alice & Steely Sam

Dear AASS,

A full one.

Dear Krabby,

I'm a newly certified diver and I'm still quite a bit apprehensive about seeing a shark underwater. What's the first thing I should do if I encounter a big man eating shark?

Great White Lunch?

Dear Sharkbait,

Stab your buddy.

Dear Krabby,

In your picture in last months column you looked a lot younger, have you been dying your hair?

Curly

Dear Shemp,

Are you sure it was my column you were reading? This isn't exactly a cosmetologists column but I guess a sharp eyed reader like yourself couldn't fail to miss some minor differences in my photos from month to month. Actually, those photos aren't of me at all. They're all of my evil twin. I'm much taller, thinner and have bigger breasts.

Dear Krabby,

What is a snorkel for?

Suckin' the Sea

Dear Sea Sucker,

I've found if you glue them to a piece of driftwood they make a pretty damn cute bud vase.

Dear Krabby,

What do you think about mixed gas diving?

N<sub>2</sub>/O<sub>2</sub>

Dear R2D2,

I found that it's easiest for me to avoid it by not eating a big greasy breakfast and bypassing those bean burritos at lunch.

CLEAN-UP EFFORT FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Sport Chalet and American Oceans Campaign have teamed up in preparation for a series of underwater beach cleanups for Southern California SCUBA divers. They plan to devote every Saturday in the month of April 1993 to 'diving for trash.' The month long event begins at Mission Bay on 3 April. The following week divers will dive at the Newport Beach Pier on 10 April. On 17 April they will dive the Malibu Pier. A dive in Ventura County is planned for 24 April.

Interested divers should contact the Dive Department at Sport Chalet (310) 657-3210 or Coreen Larson at AOC at (310) 576-6162.

A Day of Diving, Fun, and Support of a Very Worthy Cause

Wednesday, May 19, has been selected as the date for Chamber Day '93, the fifth annual fund raiser to benefit the hyperbaric chamber operating at the Isthmus on Catalina Island. Last year, over 400 divers participated raising almost $15,000 for the Chamber. Organizers anticipate an even bigger turn out this year.

Hyperbaric chambers are the only means of treating embolism and bends, two life-threatening maladies that can affect divers. Because of the high amount of diving done in Southern California, the Catalina Hyperbaric Chamber is very active. And even though Los Angeles County funds one-third of the chamber's costs, the fact is that two-thirds of the chamber's budget must come from other sources.

Chamber Day was conceived as a way for recreational divers to have fun diving and make a financial contribution to the Catalina Hyperbaric Chamber at the same time. The dive charter boats operating out of San Pedro donate their time and services for the day, and divers pay to dive aboard one of the participating boats. The divers get a chance to dive Catalina for the day and also get a walking tour of the chamber facilities along with a commemorative "Chamber Day '93" t-shirt. All the money raised from the event goes to support the Catalina Hyperbaric Chamber.

Chamber Day '93 will cost $59, which includes a day of diving and the commemorative t-shirt.

The Sea Divers will be using the Wild Wave again this year. Sign up early and support this worthwhile event!

DIVE BOAT POLICY

A club member may, but is not required to, have a boat deposit on file with the club. A club member may make a reservation on an upcoming dive as follows:

- A) Unconfirmed reservations may be made for any boat dive at any time. To confirm a reservation, payment in full must be received.
- B) For single day dives, divers holding an unconfirmed reservation will be called 3 weeks prior to the dive and advised that payment in full is required no later than 15 days prior to the dive to be confirmed. Dive boat deposits will be considered as payment in full.
- C) For two day dives, divers holding unconfirmed reservations will be called 5 weeks prior to the dive and advised that payment in full is required no later than 30 days prior to the dive to be confirmed. Dive boat deposits may be used as part of the payment in full.
- D) If payment in full is not received by the deadline, the diver may be replaced by a wait listed diver who has paid in full.

Any reservation may be cancelled two weeks prior to a dive with a full refund. Cancellations will not be accepted within two weeks prior to the dive unless a diver holding a reservation can sell or transfer their reservation to another qualified diver. The dive reservationist will assist in this process, but is not responsible for providing paying alternates. When confirmation is received by the dive boat reservationist that a cancelling diver is being replaced by another qualified diver, the replacement diver is then fully responsible for the cost of the dive.

If a diver has a deposit on file with the club and uses that deposit to secure a reservation on a boat dive, he may not use that deposit to secure additional dives until he has paid the club for the first dive. Two years after a diver has ceased to be a member of the club, his unclaimed dive boat deposit will be forfeited to the club. Only Sea Diver club members and members of other selected clubs may make boat dive reservations prior to one month before a scheduled boat dive. Partial refunds from boats which do not make the advertised dive location will be passed on to members who request them within two weeks of the dive.
